Dear Parents, Children and Staff

You will often hear me talking about the importance of interactive or 'hands-on' learning as it is proven that children learn best by 'doing' more than anything else. As such I am delighted to read the parent helper write-up in today's Messenger about the Y0 Denham Class trip to the Look-out Discovery Centre this week. They clearly had a fantastic time and learned a great deal whilst having fun at the same time. All our trips are designed with this in mind and are aimed at bringing learning to life outside the classroom.

I have been really pleased with the response so far to this year's Harvest Festival—many children have enjoyed bringing gifts of non-perishable food into the school hall in preparation for our Harvest Assemblies next week. The children have prepared lovely poems and artwork which I hope you will take a look at. Your family's gifts this year will be shared by a homeless shelter and our local old people's homes.

Please see our website for the updated Literacy Policy which was requested at the FOLMS meeting. Lastly please save the date for the first FOLMS school disco for the children on Friday 20th November—more information will follow soon.

Best wishes,
Nicholas Owlett, M.Ed
School Principal

Y0 Denham Interactive Learning Trip

The children of Year 0 Denham class visited The Lookout Centre yesterday and thoroughly enjoyed their hands-on experience. The children attended a fantastic interactive workshop where they got to grips with the basic understanding of how their bodies work, from what a skeleton is and to where your food goes. There were many other zones the children visited such as the Light and Colour zone and the Sound and Communication.
